Experts from UGA Food Science, GA Dept. of Agriculture, UGA SBDC, AgSouth, and more collaborate on NEW "Starting a Food Business" Class.

(Metter, GA) The UGA SBDC at Georgia Southern University, a Public Service and Outreach unit of the University of Georgia, and a team of experts are partnering for a two-day, in-person class to provide the technical and educational services available to those hungry minds who decide to launch their dream food into a food business.

March 24-25, 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. at the Georgia Grown Innovation Center, 25 South Terrell Street, Metter, GA 30439. The cost is $125 for both sessions, materials, and includes lunch both days.

For session content and registration go to <https://ugasbdc.training/sav/FoodBiz> [3]. For questions, please contact Liz Overstreet at (912) 651-3200.

The UGA Small Business Development Center is a Public Service and Outreach unit of the University of Georgia and funded in part through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Small Business Administration. All programs of the UGA SBDC are open to the public on a non-discriminatory basis. Reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities will be made if requested at least two weeks in advance. Contact Liz Overstreet, 316 E. Bay St., Savannah, GA 31401, 912-651-3200.
