Greater Vidalia® Workforce Development Strategy - "This Girl Can" 2022 Graduation [1]

On 30 Nov, 2022

The second annual This Girl Can graduation was held last night at Southeastern Technical College. Students and parents enjoyed hearing student testimonies about what they experienced in the November workshops. Mahsa Poorak, Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel for Southern Electric Company, was the keynote speaker. After participants received this year's T-shirts and certificates, everyone sat down for a meal together in the college's Student Center. Volunteers from Forge served the students and their families. Sixteen 7th and 8th grade females from Vidalia City and Toombs County Schools graduated from This Girl Can and earned a certificate of participation this year!

Thank you to the sponsors for making this program possible. Sponsors include: Trane, Georgia Power, Southeastern Technical College, and the Young Leadership Program | GA Chapter of the Association of General Contractors. Partners include: Greater Vidalia Chamber, Toombs County Development Authority, Vidalia City Schools, Toombs County Schools, and Southeastern Technical College.
